Thank you for the response so late on a Friday. I completely understand the situation given the circumstances and I am sorry for your family's loss. I had previously emailed Dan about re-scanning the records, so that is helpful to know. Dan, if you don't mind, the immediate solution would be to tell Mr. Riskin when you return on Monday morning that you are re-scanning the records in order so an appointment should be unnecessary.

Hi Mike,

Unfortunately, last week I had to emergency death in the family, this is why I wasn't able to help host Adrian in City Hall.

Now, Dan is out town due to family matters and will not be back until Tuesday, which he plan to scan all documents to Adrian on Tues.

I do not have the documents and Jeanne will reply to you accordingly.

Thank you,
Gigi

Dan and Gigi,

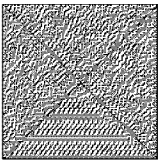

Can you please respond to Mr. Riskin with a confirmation of the appointment asap? In an email on 2/1 (a week ago now) Dan said that confirmation will have to wait until Gigi returns to the office because she is responsible for confirming the appointment. Now the email Gigi just sent to Mr. Riskin says that Riskin has to wait for Dan to return to office for confirmation.

The CPRA does provide latitude on making records available but it also requires you to make the records "promptly available."
